Sandra K. Wootton is a litigation partner with diverse experience. Her practice focuses on complex disputes in a variety of matters including commercial litigation. She has successfully handled disputes involving contract, real estate, employment, environmental and unfair competition claims, as well as other general tort and professional liability matters. She is experienced in all aspects of civil litigation and other forms of alternative dispute resolution.

In addition to her litigation experience, Sandra also regularly provides counseling in transactional settings to help clients prepare for newly enacted laws, and explore alternate contingencies and cost effective, solutions to avoid or minimize potential risks.

Sandra also previously taught Remedies as an adjunct professor at Southwestern Law School.

She also enjoys serving as a volunteer to a number of local worthy causes. She previously served as the Chair, and more recently, a CoVice Chair of the Los Angeles County Bar Association's Diversity in the Profession Committee. In 2019, she was awarded the Patricia Phillips Outstanding Committee Service Award by the Los Angeles County Bar Association (LACBA). Among other things, she also volunteers as a mentor for Southwestern Law School students and has performed pro bono work for the National Conference of Puerto Rican Women, SoCal Chapter and the Animal League Defense Fund.
