SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

The International Law Journal (ILJ) is the journal for the 300+ members of the International Law Section of the Los Angeles County Bar Association (ILS-LACBA), who are practitioners of international law in the Los Angeles region. The Journal will publish four times a year with issues themed around a particular area of law. The Inaugural Issue this year will be on Space Law and the second issue will be on Cyber Law.

- 1) The ILJ publishes articles in two distinct categories. The first category is Legal Articles written by legal professionals.
- 2) The second category is Notes from the Field, articles written by non-legal individuals professionally involved in the relevant area of practice on which the issue is themed.
- 3) Legal Articles have a maximum length of 4,000 words, including footnotes. Notes from the Field by industry relevant non-legal professionals have a maximum length of 2,000 words, including footnotes.
- 4) Graphics accompanying articles are welcomed so long as the author provides the proper rights and permission.
- 5) Please e-mail the editors with an abstract of the intended article for consideration before writing the article.
- 6) Law student articles, which are published under the title Legal Articles – Comments, must be accompanied by a sign-off from a professor or employer to ensure the content is current and accurate. The maximum word length for Comments is 4,000 words, including footnotes.
- 7) Citation format for legal articles should conform to The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation. Citation format for Notes from the Field should conform to APA Style.
- 8) A short bio should be included with the final draft with a head shot if you would like your picture included space permitting.

To contact the editors, please e-mail either Dr. Rita M. Lauria, Editor-in-Chief at rlauria@metalaw.us, Katrina Parra, Articles Editor at katrina.m.parra@gmail.com, or Claire Schmidt, Section Editor, at cschmidt@alvaradosmith.com for articles and updates related to international law but outside the theme area of the particular issue. Write “Submission Inquiry” in the subject line of the e-mail.

We look forward to hearing from you and to working with you to publish great articles in the International Law Journal.

Sincerely,

Dr. Rita M. Lauria
