When our wines reach perfection, we know it’s time to share them.

Unánime wines seek complete harmony and excellence, with an unbeatable quality reflected in each and every bottle. When this vision is shared by our team of winemakers, and endorsed by critics and consumers, the decision is Unanimous (Unánime).
Rodolfo Opi Sadler comes from a wine making family. His memory of entering the cellar in his grandfather’s basement blends the sense of adventure with the warmth of family protection.

An Argentine winemaking pioneer, Opi’s great distinction is his expertise in Cabernet Sauvignon in a country renowned for the quality of its Malbec. This allowed him to achieve great success throughout his 30-year career, even in markets historically linked with the famous “universal red”. In 2018, Opi’s La Mascota Cabernet Sauvignon 2016 was named World’s Best Red Wine in the French competition Vinalies Internationales.

Opi creates his wines with the intention of passing on his experiences, and the idea that each shared moment is worth conserving and celebrating.
Our vineyards are located in one of the world’s most exciting wine regions to be developed in the last 20 years. High altitudes, dry weather, alluvial soil, thermal amplitude, and meltwater from the Andes Mountains combine to create unique mountain desert terroirs. This special place gives life to our Unanime wines, with ripe tannins, concentrated flavors and rich personality.
